

A mirror of Chinese life

HARVARD STUDIES IN EAST ASIAN LAW

Jerome Alan Cohen, Chairman of the Editorial Committee

Only in the last decade have American scholars become aware of the value that the study of law can have to an understanding of the evolution of Chinese social, economic, and political life. This important new series provides new insights into the traditions, theoretical bases, and workings of East Asian law.

CONTEMPORARY CHINESE LAW:

Research Problems and Perspectives. Edited by Jerome Alan Cohen.

Thirteen essays that explore the methodology for studying Chinese law and investigate research materials, analyze terminology problems, and discuss the comparisons between the Chinese legal system and our own and that of the U.S.S.R.

"...It will be praised by men concerned with seeking the universal insistence of social order. The authors have proved that China is not chaotic, although it presents less familiar features of social order than any other of the great families of law."—Harvard Law Review $10.00

LAW IN IMPERIAL CHINA:

Exemplified by 190 Ch'ing Dynasty Cases (translated from the Hsing-an hui-lan) with Historical, Social, and Judicial Commentaries. By Derk Bodde and Clarence Morris. "A landmark for the subject — a magisterial survey which both consolidates and amplifies previous work in the field."—Public Affairs. $17.50

THE CRIMINAL PROCESS IN THE PEOPLE'S REPUBLIC OF CHINA, 1949-1963:

An Introduction. By Jerome Alan Cohen. "...one of the most revealing books yet published concerning the sociopolitical life of the ordinary Chinese on the Mainland." — The Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences.

INTRODUCING THE MOST COMPREHENSIVE BOOK
EVER PUBLISHED
ON BOOKS THAT AREN'T BEING PUBLISHED.

Newly revised for 1971, the 664-page Xerox Out-of-Print Book Catalog is substantially more comprehensive than the nearest contender—the 490-page 1970 Xerox Catalog.

This year's version lists 45,000 titles, making us again the largest out-of-print book publisher in the world.

Missing from this otherwise complete catalog are some 10,000 other titles that we'll publish this year. They're not listed for an excellent reason: we don't know what they are yet.

Every year, in response to thousands of requests, we track down out-of-print books, put them on microfilm, and publish them xerographically. In quantities as small or large as requested.

That way, librarians and scholars end up with books they might not otherwise have, and we end up with more titles in our catalog. (To keep you up-to-date on these new findings, we also publish The O-P Bookfinder as a monthly supplement.)

Write us for your copy, free of charge. If you're ever looking for an out-of-print title, chances are good you'll find it there.

But if you can't find it in our catalog, you can always consult a more comprehensive source.

Announcing the new, 1971 Third Edition of...

The McGraw-Hill ENCYCLOPEDIA of SCIENCE and TECHNOLOGY

Completely Revised and Updated
Over 500 Brand New Articles
Thousands of New Illustrations
Handsome, New, Larger Format
Nearly 1,000,000 Additional Words of Text

McGraw-Hill is proud to announce this major new revision of America's most authoritative and widely-used science reference—the only multi-volume reference that provides comprehensive coverage of every scientific and engineering discipline.

The ultimate sourcebook for those who need accurate, up-to-date information in any area of scientific inquiry, the McGraw-Hill Encyclopedia of Science and Technology won instant acceptance in libraries and schools all across the country. Now, our editors and contributors have undertaken a monumental revision and expansion of this landmark work.

Every article has been scrutinized to make sure it reflects the latest developments in the field, and 66% of the encyclopedia has been extensively revised and updated.

The text has been expanded by nearly 1,000,000 words to cover the extraordinary recent growth in such sciences as ecology, space, and hundreds of others. A full 8% of the text consists of entirely new articles on subjects not covered in previous editions.

All illustrations have been updated where necessary, and thousands of new illustrations have been added.

All bibliographies were updated except in rare cases where a thorough search revealed no significant new material since the previous edition.

The Index volume, uniformly praised by librarians across the country and used in several library schools as the model of "The Perfect Index," contains nearly 30,000 more citations than the previous edition. In addition, a Topical Index lists all the articles under 100 specific fields.

A handsome, new, larger format provides room for more text and illustrations.

In short, no effort has been spared to bring this new edition right up to the minute in every field...to maintain its reputation as the most authoritative reference of its kind...to make it even more useful than the highly praised first and second editions.

Presents the entire span of today's scientific, engineering, and technical knowledge in 15 volumes

NOBODY HAS MORE SELECTIONS FROM CHOICE THAN WE DO. INCLUDING CHOICE.

The Xerox College Library Book Program is designed to offer a representative sampling of books a library might want to have. And a massive sampling of books a library should have.

For example, we offer every book reviewed in Choice. (Choice, of course, is a publication of the Association of College and Research Libraries, and generally regarded as the most authoritative review source of college books.) So if you're adding to an existing library, you can get the best of current titles from us.

For those beginning a library, we offer the Choice Opening Day Collection. And in either case, all titles are available fully cataloged and processed according to Library of Congress classifications.

All these selections are listed in our new catalog, which you can have free. Write us for a copy.

We can't say that it's impossible to buy a book from us that you shouldn't have.

But the odds are definitely in your favor.

LET US REPLACE YOUR CARD CATALOG WITH AN INEXPENSIVE PAPERBACK.

If you've wanted to convert to a book catalog but haven't because of economic considerations, we'd like to talk to you about your economics.

It does cost something initially to change over. But the statistics indicate that you get it all back.

Based on 1970 contracts, the average cost per title for all our book catalog customers came to under $1.25.

But for libraries still using card catalogs—even if they actually catalog only 20% of their acquisitions—the cost comes out to something like $2.60 per title. If you have 7,000 new acquisitions a year, for example, you save $9,450. (A book catalog will require periodic cumulations, of course. But even with this expense, most libraries come out ahead.)

Besides saving you money, a book catalog lets you do things you couldn't do with a card catalog at any price. Such as making a virtually limitless number of copies. And sending copies out of the library to interested teachers, students, and other librarians.

For complete facts and figures, write us.

We're not suggesting that a book catalog will make your library rich. But the way costs are going up, it could be the only thing in your library keeping it from growing poor.

NEW REFERENCE WORKS

Author/Title, Subject and Geographic Catalogs of the GLACIOLOGY COLLECTION Department of Exploration and Field Research American Geographic Society, New York

Since its inception in 1940 the library of the Department of Exploration and Field Research, combined with the World Data Center A: Glaciology, has maintained a collection of books, journals, reprints, photographs, maps, and unpublished reports covering geography, geophysics, geology and earth science. These date from the mid-1800's to the present. Thus the catalog can be thought of as a bibliography of glaciology, containing author, subject and regional cards.

The subject classification is based on the Universal Decimal Classification for Use in Polar Libraries. The alphabetical list of the main subjects, with their subject numbers, is included at the beginning of the catalog. The regional classification is a system devised by the staff of the Department to suit the needs of its technical library. An alphabetical index of the regional classification accompanies this edition.

Manuscript Catalog of the AMERICAN JEWISH ARCHIVES, Cincinnati

The American Jewish Archives is an outstanding depository for manuscripts, broadsides, and photographs illuminating the Jewish experience in the Americas. Several million pages of documents, touching primarily on the history of the Jews in the U.S., have been assembled since the founding of the Archives in 1947. Included among the major collections are the Louis Marshall papers, the Edward Rosewater papers, the Felix Warburg collection and the Horace Kallen papers.

Although dealing with a socio-religious or religio-ethnic group, this collection is not preponderantly ecclesiastical in character. The bulk of the material throws light on American Jews in their activities as citizens and in their relationships to the larger American political and cultural communities into which they are integrated. The large, well-catalogued collection not only addresses itself to the American Jewish community in all its facets, but describes in detail the lives and careers of individuals of national repute and presents an expansive picture of one of the major ethnic groups in present-day America.

Author-Title and Subject Catalogs of the BAKER LIBRARY
Graduate School of Business Administration
Harvard University

One of the greatest business libraries in the world is making its collection readily available to scholars in business and economics. G. K. Hall & Co., in cooperation with the Graduate School of Business Administration, Harvard University, will publish, in 32 volumes, the Author-Title and Subject Catalogs of Baker Library.

Baker Library assumes primary responsibility within Harvard for coverage of the theory and practice of business and business management, the theory of organization and administration, business history and biography, and economic history before 1850. The library also collects whatever materials in the basic disciplines are needed for teaching and research in business management. Holdings in economics, mathematics and the behavioral sciences are therefore extensive. Baker Library now contains 450,000 volumes.

Heavy retrospective collecting in the 1920's assured collections very strong in 19th and early 20th century materials. Since the 1920's the library has thoroughly covered American publications, extensively collected Canadian, British and German materials and selectively covered materials in other countries, with emphasis on France, Italy, the Scandinavian countries, Latin America, Turkey, India and the Philippines. All holdings are in languages of the Roman alphabet.

The catalog also contains main entries for all Kress Library titles. The Kress Library of Business and Economics, based on the Foxwell collection acquired in 1937, consists largely of titles published between 1471 and 1850. It is very strong on economic data and theory and on business practices, and its books are useful for research in many other areas, such as social history or the history of technology.

The author-title file contains the customary added entries, and subject file headings have in many cases been revised to employ up-to-date terminology.

IF YOU'VE BEEN TRYING TO SAVE MONEY BY DOING IT YOURSELF, YOU'RE NOW LOSING MONEY

Cataloging and processing is not only tedious; it's bad business.

You can now get any book in the Xerox Library Book Program fully cataloged* and processed for $1.25 plus the price of the book—a reduction of $.70 each.

That's less than what it would cost you in time and money to buy the kits and do the work yourself.

And if, for some reason, you still want to do some of the work yourself, we've made that more economical too.

*Cataloged according to Library of Congress specifications.

We've reduced the price of books with kits from an additional $1.25 to an additional $.65. And the price of books with cards from $.60 to $.35.

So no matter how you order your books from us, you accomplish two things you haven't been able to before.

You save a little money.

And you spend more time being a librarian, and less time supervising file clerks.

U.S. Congress. Senate. Library.

Shelflist of congressional committee hearings, 41st-73rd Congress (1869-1934).
2 volumes.

This collection of Congressional hearings, the most complete known for the period, represents the holdings of the U.S. Senate Library. It is arranged in shelflist order and is fully indexed by subject, committee, and bill number. Comprising approximately 15,000 microfiche, it is an invaluable primary source for the wide range of topics and questions investigated by Congress during this period in American history.

Congressional hearings on bills of public interest or on issues of public policy before committees of either house of Congress constitute a rapidly growing and an increasingly important source of historical materials. They have not ordinarily been printed by order of Congress, and those printed prior to 1938 were not normally distributed to depository libraries. Only since 1938 have depository libraries been entitled to receive all printed Congressional hearings.

We're sorry.

We aimed the Javelin at G.M., Ford, and Chrysler and hit 75,000 librarians.

If you haven't heard already, you might as well know.

We at American Motors have been explaining how we compete with G.M., Ford, and Chrysler. We ran some ads that said our new Javelin was so hairy, it might scare some people off. And we went on to say that we might lose a few librarians as customers, but we thought we'd gain a few purists.

Well, it looks like we just might lose more than a few.

Because, from the letters we received, a lot of you resent the old stereotype of librarians implied in the ads. As you pointed out (quite forcefully), librarians aren't all timid, stuffy, and conservative.

We must apologize. And sympathize. We know how hard it is to get rid of an old-fashioned image.

But we won't take back everything we said about the Javelin. As you see, we really did make a hairy-looking car. Not only that, we redesigned its interior so that the instrument panel surrounds the driver. And covered the high-back bucket seats in vinyl, or optional fabric, or leather. Of course, we offer all kinds of engines up to 401 cubic inches and special equipment to go with them.

But with all the sporty looks and with all the optional equipment, there's still one thing that won't scare anyone off.

It's the Javelin's price.

Stop in and see at your American Motors Dealer. And tell him you're a librarian. He'll be especially happy to deal with you.

If you had to compete with GM, Ford and Chrysler what would you do?

ARE THE PEOPLE WHO USE YOUR PERIODICALS COLLECTION MAKING IT DIFFICULT TO KEEP A PERIODICALS COLLECTION?

Since periodicals are almost always printed on paper, and paper is almost always vulnerable, we've developed probably the only sure method of safeguarding them.

We've dispensed with the paper.

By ordering your periodicals on microfilm from us, you get everything on the printed page but the page. This not only discourages people from taking part of your periodicals home; it makes it virtually impossible for them to do it.

A page the size of the one on the left reduces to less than a square inch on microfilm. Anyone ingenious enough to tear out an article from a page that size would probably be smart enough not to try.

This isn't to say that an entire roll of microfilm couldn't turn up "missing." (It's unlikely, since the film is useless without a reader.) But if it ever should, you could replace it for far less than it would cost to replace the original periodicals—which are sometimes irreplaceable at any price.

So if you're starting a periodicals collection, or expanding the one you have, you might consider microfilm.

Not just because of the space you save.

Because of the periodicals you save.

* EARLY VOLUMES NOW FULLY REVISED

* NO DUPLICATION AMONG VOLUMES

* ANNUAL SUBSCRIPTION $25.00

For the past eight years Contemporary Authors has drastically reduced the research problems of librarians, teachers, students, and general readers who have sought bio-bibliographical information on today's authors. Researchers from the junior high school to the university level consult CA first for concise, orderly details on writers whose works are being published, read, and discussed currently.

More than 75% of the listings in CA are not to be found in any other commonly used bio-bibliographical reference. Thus, CA is essential for up-to-date facts on thousands of minor, unrated, and first-time writers as well as major authors. Even authors listed in other biographical dictionaries are usually covered more thoroughly in CA.

CA tries to include as many legitimate authors as possible, rather than excluding all but the most famous. Living writers of fiction, general nonfiction, juvenile books, poetry, drama, biography, history, non-technical textbooks—in fact, all authors with commercially published works in English, except technical writers—are within the scope of CA. To insure maximum accuracy and interest, sketches are based on material secured directly from the authors themselves through questionnaires and personal correspondence.

Each sketch in CA includes complete personal and career data (covering pseudonyms, family background, present address, jobs and positions, memberships, awards and honors, etc.) plus these distinctive features:

Unabridged Bibliography: Lists all books written, edited, and compiled by an author, as well as those to which he has contributed, regardless of the number of titles

Sidelights: Comprised of the author's personal comments plus a cross-section of critical opinion; information in this section gives insights into the author's achievement, personality, writing habits, and interests

Critical and Biographical Sources: Includes books and articles which contain further details on an author's work and life

Work in Progress: With probable titles, publishers, and completion dates

Because the sketches are coherent, lively, and free of annoying abbreviations, they stimulate young readers' interest in authors and encourage the use of reference books. The volumes are bound to stand up well under constant use. Volumes 1-8 (originally published 1963-64) have been thoroughly revised, updated, and expanded, checked by the authors, and bound in two volumes (1-4, 5-8), each in one straight alphabet.

THE BEST WAY TO STUDY THE ISSUES THAT ARE TEARING AMERICA APART IS TO BRING THEM TOGETHER.

Any newspaper or contemporary text can bring you astute observers of American dissent.

We can bring you the dissenters.

Through a new microfilm program, Protest, Controversy, and Dissent, we've put together selections from 102 radical and polemical periodicals—all dedicated to moving America sharply to the left, or the right, or making it disappear altogether.

The program is designed to let you examine dissent by reconstructing it in your library. Students read the Christian Anti-Communism Crusade Newsletter in conjunction with Worker's World. The National Review with The Village Voice. So one point of view can be studied in the light of its opposite, thus throwing both into sharper perspective.
